

It is, perhaps, in the field of what might generally be called personality that exceptional talents are requisite. For members of American missions, as an example, it might be appropriate for them to have served an apprenticeship as bartenders or barmaids. A fine judgment and enthusiasm for cooking, wines, literature and the arts are not to be despised. For bachelors, an addiction to versifying, dancing, and athletics is commendable. Proficiency in one or more foreign languages should be encouraged, as well as a sympathetic acquaintanceship with local customs and peculiarities.

INTERVIEWED BY REW DATE 6-17-81

TS AUTH. [REDACTED] (S)
 ENDORSE ENT [REDACTED] IN
 DECLASS [REDACTED] [REDACTED]
 Then received a long visit
 PA or FOI EXEMPTIONS

The Hon. and Mrs. Christian Herter
The Hon. Harold Stassen
The Hon. and Mrs. William Orrick (Asst. Attorney General)
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas
Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Garland, (Alex. Brown & Sons)
Mr. and Mrs. William H. Moore (Chairman, Bankers Trust Co.)
Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Lapham (Chairman of Exec. Committee, Bankers Trust Co.)
Mr. and Mrs. Cyprian J. Bridge (London Branch, Bankers Trust Co.)
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Nichols (Chairman, Olin Mathieson)

May 3, 1962 - Thursday

Lunched at Bucks. This afternoon I saw Harold Held, Chairman of the Chemical Bank New York Trust Company, with some of his officers. He is an old friend, prominent in Princeton affairs. My next visitor was Jess W. Tapp, Chairman